Clint Baldwin, International Executive Director

Dear Friends,

I write this note in the midst of a world navigating COVID19. As 2019 closed, it is staggering to recall that there was little to no indication of the world-altering events about to transpire.

Thankfully, as in past years, we share in this 2019 Annual Report about manifold good work accomplished, resources wisely utilized and lives positively changed all for the sake of seeking to see people and communities in desperate straits positively impacted by the Love of God.

Yet, considering all that is currently happening in our world, this year as you read this 2019 Annual Report, please join me in being even more quickly and deeply thankful for remembering and celebrating the graces and blessings of the Lord that brought us to today.

2019 found Word Made Flesh (WMF) International continuing forward in the theme of "locally rooted, neighboring worldwide." It remains a phrase of great encouragement and inspiration for us in relation to our practices and our goals.

As you read this report...

- You will learn about WMF's local rootedness and connectedness.
- You will find that data and numbers refer to real people and communities empowered for good.
- You will see WMF's worldwide impact.
- You will recognize that WMF's influence is not acquired from a distance, but it is due to the immediacy of lives faithfully lived together in close-knit connection.

2019 saw the Lord continuing to do amazing work through Word Made Flesh. It was a year of deepening and growth. Faithful sustainability and growth continue to be balancing and guiding pillars for us.

We continue to devotedly affirm the Lord's Goodness worldwide; through our actions, we seek to be part of the ongoing prayer, "on earth as it is in heaven." We share and learn about the Lord's Compassion for, with, and among those in desperate need.

In a take on the African phrase of Ubuntu, "WMF International is because we are!"

There is no WMF International without all of us walking head, heart, and hands together led forward by the Spirit of God

Thank you for partnering with us! Thank you for walking with us! Thank you for being us!

CLINT BALDWIN is the International Executive Director of Word Made Flesh. After a quarter century of learning, teaching and administrating in higher education with a interdisciplinary focus on international and intercultural peace and justice, Clint brings a deep desire for transformative reconciliation, empowerment and mutuality to be at work in all places and people as he guides Word Made Flesh forward.

BOLIVIA

WMF Bolivia exists to provide abundant life for those affected by prostitution in El Alto, Bolivia.

"Orphaned as a child with no familial support, Vanessa later became a victim of intimate partner violence. In a last resort for power and control, her husband sued her for legal custody of her children. With mounting legal debts, little education and few professional skills, Vanessa saw no alternatives to provide for her family beyond prostitution.

She began working in one of El Alto's largest brothels, renowned for sex trafficking. WMFB staff shared hygiene supplies and a listening ear during one of their outreach visits. Vanessa, curious to learn more, visited WMFB several days later with her children.

They all became active participants in WMFB's programs. Therapy and engagement with the other women healed many of her past traumas and enabled her to develop a support network. Upon completing the Women's Program, Vanessa became a Sutisana artisan. Currently, she encourages her children to dream big and aspire to hold professional jobs. She is working to purchase a house and secure a good future for each of them. She is also actively engaged in her church, where she holds a leadership position."

120 women trained to achieve basic literacy, financial knowledge and professional skills.

25% increase in sales for Sutisana, a social enterprise that brings dignified employment to women leaving prostitution.

Reached 39% of registered sex workers in El Alto and 8% of registered sex workers in La Paz (over 2,800 women total).

me in my professional work in the Therapeutic Community Room, but also in my community as I interact with people in villages. I am also using the skills I learned from the professionals in my church particularly when couples come to me for help and counseling. I find that I have got a lot of resources that I did not have before attending the workshops."

BURUNDI

WMF Burundi exists to pioneer a new path to peace by providing resources for trauma healing and reconciliation in Burundi and the African Great Lakes Region.

NTRODUCING WMF BURUNDI...

This year we launched WMF
Burundi, registered locally as Trauma Healing And Reconciliation Services (THARS)

Provide assistance to those who are traumatized with Healing of Memories workshops.

Cultivate learning with School Gardens in elementary schools.

Provide self-help group initiatives to vulnerable and poor communities.

BRAZIL

WMF Brazil exists to offer a prophetic witness to the city of Rio de Janeiro, especially to those who struggle with and suffer from drugs, poverty, broken families, and violence.

Chineza, was a woman who was mistreated in life. She lost everything she had and ended up living on the street and using drugs. She had 15 children, but not one of them lived with her - all living with several different families.

Through the WMF Brazil community, Chineza was helped to find steady employment and decided to look for a place to live. While she was able to find a place to rent, she also met a man who co-opted her back into drugs. She lost everything again, including her job.

But we did not give up on her. We continued to show her that God cares for her. We were able to talk to her former employer, who graciously said that she would receive Chineza back. Since then, Chineza is doing well. She is working, and she is growing in her relationship with God."

- Esdrianne Cohen (WMF Brazil Field Director)

120 families and 80 children have been supported through our programs that provide relational support, discipleship, education and help with food and rent.

Through a local partnership we support families that are food insecure with a prepaid card for groceries.

"I came to the family of the Word Made Flesh community when I was just an infant. I was abandoned by my single mother, and I have never seen or heard from my parents - though I do know they were a Hindu family. But by the grace of God, I was introduced to the love of Jesus, and today I am a child of God. In every step of my life, the Lord's strength has helped me - for I am a very weak person. The fact that I was able to graduate from high school in computers is by the sheer grace of God. Not only that, but the Lord has given me a good job in a supermarket for which I am grateful. If I am at this blessed state, it is truly because of the life and love of the Lord present in the WMF community in Chennai."

- Hannah, WMF India

INDIA

WMF Chennai seeks to restore dignity to children and youth who have been marginalized due to HIV/AIDS, leprosy, caste, and poverty.

Successfully placed 3 teens in part-time jobs, while 3 others are supported with higher education through part-time training at the Life Enrichment Center.

6 teens received education and training in computers and professional development for future job prospects.

MALAWI

WMF Malawi exists to witness to the Good News of Jesus Christ by engaging in works of mercy and justice alongside people experiencing extreme poverty.

Supported our partner, Circle of Hope Intl. (COH), in adding standard 8 (8th grade) to the primary school.

Supported COH in opening and starting a private medical clinic.

Sent the first long-term missionaries to ever live in this area of Malawi.

Supported COH in feeding 800+ children and staff members 2 meals per day.

"Carrie* is a mother whose two older children, a 7 and a 9 year old, left our Community Center program abruptly last autumn when their family moved back to a village an hour away. When we contacted Carrie to ask how they were getting along, she shared that her husband was out of work and that she was expecting a baby. A few days later we received an SOS call: "I need help. Last night I felt some contractions. I am due to give birth in April, and I have nothing prepared for this baby."

We immediately got three different families on the phone who have delivered babies here in Chisinau in the past three months, and every single one said, "Yes. Absolutely. I'll make a bag of newborn items and get them to you in the morning."

All said and done, within 24 hours we were able to reach this mother at her home in a remote village with the needed material support, and then some.

And even more than that, we learned that a formerWMF
Moldova taff member lives in the very same village, also has a newborn, and said she has been praying for someone to support through these difficult times! She will be nearby to offer Carrie continued moral support in the days ahead. God is good, and He is taking care of His children."

(*Name changed to respect privacy.)

MOLDOVA

WMF Moldova is called to love and serve Jesus in community among vulnerable children and their families.

3,600 hot lunches and snacks provided for students.

4 families benefited from assistance in paying rent and utilities, and 3 parents were assisted in finding employment.

NAVAJO NATION

WMF Navajo Nation exists to witness to the Good News of Jesus Christ by engaging in works of mercy and justice alongside people experiencing poverty and marginalization.

Volunteers from the local church and staff traveling in from California and Kentucky resulted in 550+ volunteer hours.

Winter provision trip provided food and necessity baskets for 22 families and 40 new coats and over 200 gifts for children in the area with 336 Volunteer hours.

34 children atteneded WMF Navajo Nation VBS/Sheep Camp.

"I thought God had forgotten about us, and then He sent you,' said Joyce on one of our first visits to the Navajo Nation. When we first responded to God's call to travel to the Navajo Nation in 2010, we felt uncertain of our role and abilities. As we learned, the local people felt the same. They had seen people come and go through the years. Partnering with local leaders, we are committed to serving with this community long-term as an act of obedience to the Lord.

God has ordained strong relationships as we unite on and off the Navajo Nation and praise God for our extended family in Christ. We seek to encourage each other in our Faith and overcome struggles in our families and cultures. As we serve together, we focus on extending God's love and empowering children. We share that they have been created in God's image, and His love never fails."

- Cindy Dean, WMF Navajo Nation Volunteer have been neglecting some very serious health issues sometimes for years.

"Days after we brought the boat into the village, a little girl broke her arm and Benjamin was able to provide timely transportation to the nearest clinic that would not have been available otherwise. In the weeks ensuing, we were able to provide a number of elderly patients with access to much needed medical care through the resource of the boat. Because they have no income, they are unable to pay for a seat on the weekly business canoe and so

We had initially envisioned that most of the patients who would use the resource of the boat to go to clinics would pay for a seat - to help supplement fuel costs; however, what we found was that there are pockets of the community that have been routinely overlooked in the area of medical care, and providing this resource pro-bono has facilitated a dialogue about how to better care for those individuals."

- Mary Grimm, WMFPNG Translation/Literary Consultant

PAPUA NEW GUINEA

PERU

WMF Peru is a community committed to serving Jesus among vulnerable people groups in Peru's marginalized urban areas.

Edith, one of our WMF Peru friends, hosts the workshops for mothers on Positive Parenting. After one meeting in particular, Edith spoke with the entire group of women, motivating them to seek more of God.

She encouraged them by sharing her own experience of knowing God and distinguishing the particular ways that WMF Peru shares about Jesus.

She mentioned, "They tell you about Jesus in a very close and simple way. The brothers and sisters have a passion for you, they never judge you, and they always show their friendship. They truly are Christians like Jesus, and knowing God really does change your life."

She was able to not only walk alongside these women during this season but encourage them as well.

- Anna Monteviller, WMF Peru Field Director

Provided a hot meal, a hot showers, games, and educational activities for 40 youth 3 days a week.

Provided weekly meetings for education and emotional support with 5 young mothers.

Provided teaching and homework help for 5 children, 4 hours per day, Monday-Friday.

"Alexandra is a 13 year old girl in the 5th grade. She has attended the Community Center every day since she was 7. When Alexandra came to us as a 7 year old, she had no reading or writing skills and needed special therapy for speech.

Three years ago her father fell out of a boat on the Danube River and drowned. Although Alexandra's mother never went to school, she was able to find a job cleaning staircases in apartment blocks. She works long hours to provide her children with daily food. The family lives in two rooms, sharing the rest of the house, courtyard, shower, and toilet with 4 other related families.

After the death of her father, Alexandra had a difficult time and ceased coming to the Center. Little by little, after many home visits, she returned and was reintegrated into our educational programs.

Alexandra has made amazing strides over the past years but continues to suffer with trust and relationships – especially after she lost her father. Still, she continues to come to the Center and to stay in school. She is talkative, friendly, and even dreaming of her future. She says that she she grows up she wants to become the coordinator of the Community Center. After the death of her father, Alexandra had a difficult time and ceased coming to the Center. Little by little, after many home visits, she returned and was reintegrated into our educational programs.

We pray that Alexandra continues to become more confident and to live into the plans that God has for her."

It's clear to see that the women trust and respect her as she pours out the love of Jesus through her service. She is passionate about building up women to be leaders in their homes and communities, and loves the spirit of creativity and beauty that has come out of our jewelry workshop!" "Abdullai is an 8-year-old boy that attends our tutoring program. In February, he came to us one day with a badly infected leg wound where a motorcycle had hit him and just left him in the street. By the time we saw his leg wound, it looked like the infection in it could go septic any day, and he was febrile.

Abdullai had been to the hospital, but his leg had been stitched up in a way that didn't encourage proper healing. He had got dirty water in the wound very quickly also, because there was no other option to bathe with. We began him on a course of antibiotics, pain medicine, and daily wound care at the office. It could have been a life-threatening situation, or in the very least an amputation situation. It was a small transformation over several weeks, but now Abdullai is fully healed. This was a success because not only is he playing and doing much better now, but it showed us as a WMF community that each of our programs working together makes a huge difference. This is a medical, tutoring, and outreach success story. It shows that God saw Abdullai's unique need and healed him."

"I have been blessed to have been a part of the Word Made Flesh family. I have personally witnessed every person's commitment to living out Jesus' commandment to 'love our neighbor as we love ourselves.' In a day when that sentiment is shunned, it relieves me that there are still human beings that are devoted to being the hands and feet of Christ, loving and serving one another as bearers of God's image. Even though I haven't met even half of the staff and volunteers around the world, I still feel connected to them on a personal level. Reading email updates, reports and seeing social media posts reminds me that I am a part of a family that continues to do ministry with the love of Jesus Christ throughout the corners of the earth."

international school with parital scholarship.

2 students connected with free English classes.

> 80 hours of volunteer homework help and tutoring.

THAILAND

WMF Thailand seeks to connect people who are affected by issues of poverty and migration connected to resources that will break cycles of generational poverty and exploitation.

"Two Cambodian students, who have lived in Thailand for most of their lives, have been part of our educational program for the last two years. Because of their immigrant status, they had been unable to attend school. Three months ago, they were given a scholarship to an International School. They jumped wholeheartedly at the opportunity, but in order for them to attend, we had to travel to Cambodia to acquire the necessary education visas.

With your support, we were able to help John and Puang start the 8th grade at the International school.

John and Puang are both confronting the difficulties of transitioning into the higher grade level and large school setting. They are both putting in the work to catch up. Thankfully, all the reports from the teachers say that they are respectful and very good influences within their class.

John has also joined the school soccer team, which has boosted his confidence and helping him integrate into the school community.

We pray with confidence that the One who began this good work will be faithful to complete it."

Kara Chambers WMF Bolivia Programs Coordinator

"If we make an impact in one woman's life or in one child's life, then that's enough... we've also been uniquely privileged to see a lot of fruit over the last couple of years. We've grown a lot in staff; we've seen the Bolivian community be built up and become experts in their area and also have more possibilities because the community is larger and more diverse in skill and experience. It's been amazing to see. Our founders have been here for 18 years working alongside Bolivian staff and volunteers, 17 years since the ministry center started, and it's exponentially grown....

... So we've seen this beaufitul impact of the ways that God has blessed the long haul."

"My favorite thing about being in Rwanda is being part of a community of women and seeing how community and knowing the love of Jesus has woken a lot of us up to who we truly are...

...That is what empowers us, myself, and all the women that we minister to.

Being a part of a community of women who are ministering to each other and to our greater community is my favorite thing."

"I am thankful to confirm that Word Made Flesh International responds to the cry for justice arising from those experiencing dire harms in this world with a resounding, "Yes!"

Yes, God sees and loves! Yes, God calls us to showcase the love we have experienced through offering compassionate care to others! Yes, God desires that we choose to see and aid those whom the world too often brushes aside and condemns to lives of marginalization and oppression! Yes, through partnering together in service and by God's grace we make a difference! Yes, Lord, we will go, we will serve, we will love in your name!

Year after year, night and day, Word Made Flesh International staff share their lives and the love of God with those in desperation.

I am grateful to partner in the ministry of Word Made Flesh International through my role on the board of directors.

I encourage you to join my fellow board members and me in coming alongside this valuable good work of God that is happening around the world.

Together there is much that we can do to joyfully further the light of God's Love being made manifest in the lives of those who have experienced far too much darkness!"

Steve Behnke, MD, MBA has been a long time supporter of Word Made Flesh, having first learned about the ministry from while attending Asbury University during it's earliest years. He received his MD and MBA degrees at the University of Louisville and subsequently trained in Internal Medicine at Ohio State University. Presently, he leads MedOne Hospital Physicians in Columbus, Ohio and is the Chief of the Section of Internal Medicine at Riverside Methodist Hospital. Steve lives in Columbus with his wife, Ashleigh, and their four boys.

THE FREEDOM OF OBEDIENCE

"So, as well, too often I need to remind myself that obedience can mean freedom. It gives me freedom so that when faced with multiple good choices, I don't have to be paralyzed in thinking that one will lead to an abundant life and one will lead to destruction and the lonely wilderness. They might be both incredible, missional opportunities where God is uniquely at work. This means, I can spend my time assessing if my skill set can be better used here, or there. It asks me to look at the bigger picture of things. It asks me what I can receive and give, rather than demand. And yes, there can be sacrifice. But as I am obedient (loving God and doing my best to keep God's commandments), I can be confident that the sacrifice is worth it and I will continue to walk into a good and abundant life."

"WMF has changed my life completely. When I walked down the steps into Kroo Bay, I felt a peace like never before...

...WMFSL does life differently, and truly invests in those the world ignores, as God has called us to do. I saw the gospel at work everyday, in the small actions of people from WMFSL. I saw Jesus and the transformation he brings through their intentionality, and wanted to be a part of that. WMF has helped me to be more intentional in building community. It has helped me to show love each day in small ways.. My WMFSL family has taught me the deep importance of prayer and practicing thankfulness, especially through hardship."

"To me, the most rewarding part of WMF is that the organization saved my life. By now, my life would have been very different than it is today. I think I would have died in the street, or would have had to turn to prostitution if I hadn't been one of the youth in the Lighthouse program at WMFSL... I have gone from being a youth to a staff member. WMF walked with me through my life till now, and they brought unity to my family....

...Now that I'm on staff, I get to help women and other people leave the street. I don't think I would be where I am today without WMF."

"Amidst the wonderful time I had getting to work with all the kiddos and staff at La VIA (WMF Moldova), a particular blessing during my time serving was tutoring and getting to help several students one-on-one.

I love that La VIA creates an environment for every child to feel at home, be able to spend time with each other and the staff, and enjoy that there are times we can all play together...

...as well as moments like tutoring when you can be spending more time with a student individually. It was a pleasure getting to help one boy with his math each week, and another girl with her English several times, and it was a cool way of getting to know each child better and developing relationship with them!"

"WMF is one of the first organizations that gave me the opportunity to learn about new mission practices outside my country. I appreciated the incarnational and relational service that I saw.

...That gave me the fuel that began my commitment to the most vulnerable.

I have also seen God move in many ways, in the times of street prayer, in the provision by helping families with their children's studies, and in moments of friendship recognizing that the most valuable thing you can offer is silence, empathy, and respect to those who suffer.."

Anna Monteviller WMF Peru Field Director

Celebrating 25 Years of Service!

Word Made Flesh India is celebrating 25 years of serving Jesus among those who are most vulnerable. Machzhilchi Illam (Home of Happiness) is WMF's first project and the first pediatric AIDS care facility in South India. Patrick and Victoria Samuel served as the leaders and home parents, and their legacy continues through their daughter Angelene who now serves as the director.

Photos by: Angelene Samuel

During the 25 years of parenting children in need has meant mourning the deaths of 11. Of the 88 children cared for, we also celebrate the transformation in their lives.

One transformed life is Dorothy. She was born as the fifth girl child in a remote village in south India, where female infanticide is at its worst. Dorothy was abandoned in a cradle at a community hospital because her family did not want another girl child. Dorothy says:

"I was brought as a 7-month-old baby to the Word Made Flesh community in Chennai, where the dear Samuels became my parents too. I was a stubborn little girl and since I was speech and hearing impaired too, I sure did give a difficult time for everyone who tried to help me. But the Lord helped to understand his Word and his ways. Because of this community I am a living testimony that the Lord does not forsake the fatherless.

I am married to another special person Gautham, and we are grateful to the Lord for his love and care upon us.

Praise the Lord."

"By the wonderful plan of God, I joined Chennai Word Made Flesh family as a 26-day-old infant. I do not know who my parents are, but I do know that I was given away by a single mother. The Lord gave me a family that loved and cared for me from my infancy. I was given the name Daniel by this family as per the will of God. I do not know how my life would have turned out if the Lord had not brought me to this community. Mathew 6:26 says, "You are special." Yes, I am indeed special in the eyes of the Lord who made me beautiful when I was broken and abandoned. Today I have completed Bible college and I am serving the Lord with Child Evangelism Fellowship of India."

We are grateful to the Lord for 25 years of service, and we look forward to experiencing God's faithfulness through the ongoing work of WMF in India!

THANK YOU for supporting our ongoing work.

We were able to accomplish much in 2019 because of God's grace, expressed through your generosity!

We need your help in advocating for those who are living in the margins and in meeting our ambitious goals for 2020. Partner with us!
